Ministers Meet in Canberra

8-Nation SEATO Talks Under Way

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — The SEATO Council of Ministers opened its third annual meeting today to intensify the eight-nation alliance's fight against Communist political and economic subversion in Southeast Asia.

Representatives of the United States, Australia, Britain, France, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan met in the green-carpeted House of Representatives chamber of Australia's Parliament Building for the three-day conference.

Matters Up For Action

The council, top policy-making body of the alliance formed in 1954, was expected to:

1. Recommend that member nations keep their military forces up to present strength and intensify measures to safeguard their internal security.

2. Lay plans to keep free Asian nations fror linking their economies closer to the Communist bloc.

3. Initiate a multilateral cultural program to promote mutual understanding among the member nations.

Council sources said Communist tactics in the area have been shifting in the past year from a threat of armed aggression to a wide program of political, economic and other penetration. A major Red aim is the promotion of neutralism.

Not Permanent

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles told the council it could "confidently conclude. . . . that international communism now imposed upon many of the peoples of Asia is a passing and not a permanent phase."

But Red Chinese support of Southeast and Eastern Asia, Dulles said unity and strength are being developed in South Viet Nam but a serious problem remains in Laos, where "communism continues to support the Pathet Lao insurgents."

He reported "growing strength" in South Korea, Japan and Nationalist China, which are outside SEATO but connected with it through their collective defense treaties with the United States.

Dulles also pointed out that the Federation of Malaya soon is to achieve independence from Britain and said "amiable and fruitful discussions are now in progress" regarding the future of Singapore.

Chimpanzee's Abstract Art Sells for $145

BALTIMORE (AP) — Betsy, the chimp gone arty, continued her abstract dabblings today as the market for her work picked up.

Betsy had her first public sale Sunday.

Her paintings already had sold for as high as $50 a piece.

And Zoo Director Arthur Watson said there have been numerous telephone calls as well as personal inquiries about the stuff turned out by the 7-year-old chimp that really throws herself into her work.

Betsy finger paints—well, not exactly just fingers. She also uses hands, tongue, elbows—anything she can get hold of to make the swirls and lines and daubs which Watson said one art museum official has termed good enough to hang with other abstract works.

Betsy doesn't know it, of course, but she's hard at what well may be a labor of love.

Watson said the money may be used to "buy Betsy a husband."

Receipts from her paintings already total $145, Watson said.

Betsy; who has been painting since the fall of 1953, has turned out 17 salable canvasses so far. Ten others had to be thrown away. In one big day she turned out 10 in one hour.

Watson started her on painting as a stunt and because, he said, she had natural dexterity.

Former Baltimore Mayor Howard W. Jackson, whose son, Riall, was one of the buyers summed it up:

"Like a lot of other things in life, it's a lot of monkey business."

Flowing of Oil Is Resumed in Iraq Pipeline

LONDON (AP)—A spokesman for the Iraq Petroleum Co. said today oil has started flowing again from Iraq through a repaired pipeline across Syria to Baniyas on the Mediterranean coast.

He added that pumping through the company's other two pipelines across Syria was expected to begin "in a day or two."

"The 30-inch pipeline to Baniyas is the newest of the three and therefore was in better condition and needed less repairs. We have heard officially that pumping through this pipeline has actually started."

The IPC spokesman was commenting on a statement by its representative in Damascus that oil would start flowing through the pipelines within 48 hours. The flow stopped when IPC installations in Syria were sabotaged Nov. 4, a few days after British-French forces began the invasion of Suez.

Two other pipelines, one 16 inches and the other 12 run through Syria to the Mediterranean at Tripoli.

"Before Suez we used to pump 25 million tons a year across Syria. That means we should be pumping about 40 per cent of our normal output as soon as the other two pipelines are working. We have no knowledge in London of any change in this estimate."

Company officials say full-scale repairs to permit resumption of the normal flow will not be completed for more than a year. Before the pumping stations were damaged, a daily average of 72,000 tons of oil went through the lines.

Teamsters' Head Faces Senate Quiz

Beck, Home From Europe, Says He Will Appear for Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets investigators prepared today to subpoena Teamsters Union President Dave Beck and seize his financial records unless he agrees quickly to "be cooperative." Beck indicated he would comply with their requests before being subpoenaed.

The teamster chief returned unheralded from Europe Sunday, dodged reporters in New York, refused to be interviewed in Chicago, and flew on to his home in Seattle.

Declines To Talk

Arriving there, Beck said "I don't think so" when he was asked by newsmen whether he would wait for a subpoena. He said he expected to go to Washington "very soon." Beck declined to answer any other questions.

Beck's Teamsters Union — the nation's biggest — has been the focus so far of a special Senate committee's search for evidence of racketeering influences in labor and industry.

For the past two weeks, the committee has received testimony that West Coast teamster officials were linked with underworld figures and some public office holders in efforts to take over vice and gambling operations in Portland, Ore. The hearings are in recess until Tuesday.

The committee has said it wants to question Beck about charges that union funds were used to pay some of his personal bills, and about the activities of some of his lieutenants.

Informed of Beck's return, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the rackets investigating group, told a newsman:

"I just assume he (Beck) will get in touch with the committee now that he's back."

Other committee sources said a subpoena was being drafted to summon Beck before the committee and to seize his personal financial records if he does not agree within a day or two to "be cooperative."

Faces Test

Meantime, Portland Mayor Terry D. Schrunk was due to take a lie detector test from Secret Service experts to check his denial that he once accepted a bribe. Schrunk, a Democrat, agreed to take the test Friday after branding as "fantastic" testimony that in 1955, while he was sheriff of Multnomah County (Portland), he collected a $500 bribe to call off a raid on a gambling place.

The hearings are to resume Tuesday with testimony from Clyde Crosby, Teamsters Union boss in Oregon, and William M. Langley, Democratic district attorney in Multnomah County. Both are under indictment on conspiracy charges.

Financier, Wife Top Stockholders

American Motors May Feel Impact of Wolfson

DETROIT (AP)—George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., said today that financier Louis E. Wolfson of Miami and his wife have become probably the largest two stockholders in the company.

The Wolfsons reportedly own 240,000 shares of American Motors, which has 48,000 stockholders and 5,670,430 shares outstanding.

Regarding published reports that Wolfson proposes American Motors sell its automotive (Nash-Hudson-Rambler) division and concentrate on Kelvinator appliances, Romney told newsmen:

"I have seen Wolfson recently. I am always anxious to get the views of our shareholders. I don't know exactly what Mr. Wolfson has in mind in the way of changes or suggestions. I don't know if he has any definite changes in mind.

"As far as I am concerned, the auto division of American Motors is sound. It is a unique operation. There are growing opportunities. The market for the small car will increase."

Wolfson, 45, is a veteran of some of the nation's roughest stockholder - management battles in recent years. His endeavor to take over Montgomery Ward & Co. was unsuccessful, but brought about a reorganization and the retirement of Sewell Avery as chairman.

American Motors, formed in 1954 through merger of Nash-Kelvinator Corp. and the Hudson Motor Car Co., reported it lost $19,700,000 in the year ended last Sept. 30. Romney noted the auto division had a "sizeable loss," but said the appliance division had the "most profitable year since 1950."

Demand Return to Egyptian Control

Arabs Riot in Gaza, Assail U.N. Administrative Plan

DESERT CHECK. Pvt. Astor Bjorklund from Onge, Sweden, checks a traveler mounted on a camel at a road block at Raffah, in the Gaza Strip. Bjorklund is a member of the United Nations Emergency Forces which took over policing of the Gaza Strip area after Israeli forces had withdrawn.

UNEF Chief Keeps Firm Grip on Area

Demonstrators Are Routed by Tear Gas; Burns Awaits Orders

GAZA (AP) — The battle for the Gaza Strip is still on despite the Israeli withdrawal. U. N. forces had to use tear gas and shoot in the air Sunday to disperse Arabs rioting for a return to Egyptian control.

A committee of Arabs claiming to represent more than 1,000 civil workers employed in the strip before the Israeli invasion said they would work only if Egypt approved the civil administration set up for the strip by the U. N. Emergency Force (UNEF).

Notes Administrative Setup

The rioting stemmed from the temporary administrative setup headed by Danish Col. Carl Ingholm as military governor. He named a committee of five residents of Gaza City to supervise all civil affairs in the town itself.

Ingholm will preside over the council. Munir Rayess, Gaza mayor under the Egyptian administration who was held a political prisoner for 45 days during the Israeli occupation, was asked to serve. He declined, saying that the pre-invasion Municipal Council objected.

There is strong feeling among the 310,000 residents of the strip, including some 215,000 Palestine Arab refugees, against even the appearance of international control in the strip.

Arabs Demonstrate

About 300 Arabs stormed through the streets, waving banners and shouting for the return of Egyptian administration. When U.N. troops in vehicles herded the demonstrators down Gaza's main street and out of the center of town, the rioters began throwing stones.

The Arabs tried to smash the gates of the UNEF police headquarters. The U.N. troops, using tear gas and firing over the rioters' heads, forced them to disperse. The demonstrators made several unsuccessful efforts to reform their ranks.

No casualties were reported on either side.

Curfew Extended

After the outbreak, a curfew previously ordered for 6 p.m. was moved up to 1 p.m. Sound trucks drove through the streets ordering the population to obey, but the military police had difficulty in getting the excited Arabs to comply.

The clash between UNEF and the Arabs erupted while Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UNEF commander, was in Gaza for talks with his

REDS IMPEDE FREEDOM FLIGHT. In an attempt to insure its citizens' patriotism, Hungarian soldiers erect barbed wire entanglements along the Hungarian border near Heiligenkreuz while Austrian border guards (right) watch from a border barrier. To further discourage travel outside Hungary, personnel mines have been strategically laid along the path to freedom, indicating that the Kadar Red regime is determined to stop the flow of refugees fleeing Hungary.

Among 6 Dead in Crash

Marion Resident's Son, Four Grandchildren Die

Charles L. Moser, 31, of near Plymouth, son of a Marion resident, and four of his children were victims of a traffic accident near New Haven Sunday.

Another child was critically injured in the crash, which also killed the other driver involved, Miss Shirley J. Reeder, 31, of Plymouth.

Mr. Moser, three of the children and Miss Reeder were killed instantly. Another Moser child, Marsha, 4, died in Willard Hospital today.

Collide at Intersection

The accident occurred on U.S. 224 about a mile and one-half east of New Haven when the Moser and Reeder cars collided at an intersection.

Killed with Mr. Moser were Gary, 7; Douglas, 6, and Vicki, 5, his children.

James L. Moser, 9, was critically injured and is reported in "poor" condition in the hospital.

Mr. Moser's wife, Dolores, and three other children were at home at the time of the accident. The other children are Donna, 10, and Melinda and Deanna, infants.

Brother, Sister Here

Mr. Moser is the son of W. C. Moser of 357 Olney Ave. He was a foreman at Shelby Air Force Depot. He was born north of Marion in Crawford County and was graduated from Willard High School. He served as a Navy tail-gunner during World War II.

In addition to his father and step-mother, a brother and sister reside here. They are Mrs. Byron Pierce of Patterson St. and Robert Moser of S. ### Federal Dam in Oregon Placed Into Operation

THE DALLES, Ore. (AP) — The huge, government-built The Dalles Dam choked off the Columbia River for 4½ hours Sunday to create a reservoir that eventually will add more than a million kilowatts to the nation's power.

Power production will begin at the 260-million-dollar dam in November. At first it will be 156,000 kilowatts. By 1960 it will reach its planned 1,092,000 kilowatts.

The potential — if other generators are added later — is 1,716,000 kilowatts. That would make it second in the nation only to Grand Coulee Dam, another in the series of government dams in the Columbia Basin. Grand Coulee produces 1,974,000 kilowatts.

Knox Barn Fire Kills 67 Head of Livestock

MOUNT VERNON (AP)—Sixty-seven head of livestock and 650 bales of hay and straw were destroyed in a barn fire Sunday night on the Chester Scarbrough farm five miles south of Fredericktown in Knox County.

A small section of the barn, a milk house and most of the farm machinery were saved by firemen.

Bonus Forms Available for Local Veterans

Korean War bonus applications for approximately 1,750 Marion County veterans of that conflict were to arrive at the Marion Veterans Service Center at 126½ S. Main St. today.

The blanks, Form 1 for living veterans eligible for the bonus, were to be delivered by National Guard personnel, escorted by elements of the state highway patrol.

The deliveries in Marion were expected to coincide with similar distributions throughout the state, according to plans set up by Chester W. Goble, director of the Korean Conflict Compensation Fund. In all, some 250,000 veterans are thought to be eligible for the bonus payments in Ohio.

Bonuses are payable to veterans of the Korean War who saw active service in any one of the armed forces between June 25, 1950, and July 19, 1953. They must have lived in Ohio at least one year before entering service and have been residents of the state on the day of their induction.

Eligible servicemen will receive a total of $10 a month for each month of domestic service, and $15 a month for time spent overseas, including sea duty or service in Alaska. The maximum amount of the bonus any veteran can receive is $400.

Relatives of deceased veterans who qualify for bonus payments to next-of-kin must write for Form 2 applications to the state director's office at 293 E. Long St. in Columbus. These forms will be used by relatives of veterans who were killed in action in Korea, or have since died of either service-incurred injuries or of natural causes.

At least 10 service units or individuals in Marion county will be available to assist veterans in filling out their application forms, according to Mrs. Madeline Tatham, manager of the local service center.

Tidal Waves Lash Hawaii

Aleutians Are Hit By Severe Quakes

By The Associated Press

The Pacific's jumpy northeastern rim continued to tremble today and Sunday night as the result of a mighty earthquake in the Aleutian Islands Saturday.

The restless earth that sent tidal waves crashing into villages in Hawaii and Japan rumbled again at 7:20:23 p.m., Pacific Standard Time.

The University of California seismograph at Berkeley was still registering the shock 2½ hours later.

Also in Aleutians

Research assistant John Denoyer said the new quake, apparently another vigorous aftershock of the Saturday quake, appeared again to be in the Aleutians.

Meanwhile, the Coast and Geodetic Survey office in Honolulu reported that Mt. Vsevidof on the Aleutian Island of Unmark was belching smoke after lying dormant for 200 years. Officials said it probably had been stirred to life by Saturday's big quake.

Early Warning Saves Time

In Hawaii, where waves ranging from 3 to 9 feet high slammed up over the beaches Saturday along northern shores of the islands, Gov. Samuel Wilder King said 154 people were left homeless in two villages on Kauai while 4,000 others were isolated by washed-out bridges.

Unofficial damage estimates ranged up to two million dollars.

No direct loss of life was reported because of early warnings, but Paul O. Beam, veteran newsman, and Sarah Park, Star-Bulletin reporter, were dead in the crash of a plane photographing the waves.

In Berkeley, seismologist Denoyer said he could not tell whether Sunday night's aftershock, the fifth, would cause more tidal waves.

Seismologist Don Tocher said the University of California recorded another major shock for two hours this morning. It started at 5:05:47 a.m. (EST).

Tocher said the intensity was 6.75 on the Richter scale.

Rebel Groups Spread Revolt In Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The government of Indonesia, beset by a rash of bloodless rebellions and a financial crisis, has decided to resign on Wednesday, high government sources said today.

The informants said the decision was made after a meeting of the five parties which make up Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo's coalition government.

Sumatra joined the spreading revolt Saturday, when a revolutionary council withdrew its support from the central government. Lt. Col. Barlian, another of Indonesia's restless young army leaders, blasted the Sastroamidjojo government as being "slow" and "incompetent." The Sastroamidjojo - appointed governor fled to Java, it was reported.

Dissatisfied political and military leaders in Borneo, the world's third largest island and the least explored of the 3,000 in Indonesia, were reported considering similar action.

Rebellious groups already have bolted from the central government in central Sumatra and in eastern Indonesia—Celebes, Timor, the Lesser Sundas, Flores and Bali.

A complaint of all the rebelling groups is that their areas do not get a big enough cut from the proceeds of their export for local improvements and services.

But Finance Minister Paden Djuanda announced another drop in the gold reserves supporting the currency and declared the government is unable to meet all the financial demands of the rebelling units.

While generally declaring allegiance to President Sukarno, the rebel leaders have also been uneasy about the President's plan to bring Communists into an all-party government.

Holds Suez Control

Little Chance of Nasser Relenting Seen in West

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western officials reportedly see little chance to block Egyptian President Nasser's drive for full operating control of the Suez Canal.

The future of the Suez — together with alternative means of transport — probably will rank high in the talks between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in Bermuda next week.

Nasser presumably is relying upon Soviet backing to help him make secure the hold which he has been tightening on the Suez Canal since he seized it last July 6. The United States and many other free nations have been trying to keep some measure of operating control of the canal while conceding Egypt's ownership of it.

Newest Western Proposal

The newest Western move was a proposal that ships using the waterway pay tolls to the World Bank, United Nations or some other "neutral" agency. The agency in turn would pay 50 per cent of the collection to Egypt and hold the rest pending a final settlement of the claims arising out of Egypt's nationalization act.

Nasser's regime gave its answer in a statement Saturday. Information Director Abdel Kader Hatem said Egypt would not accept "any such proposal" because "it violates Egypt's rights according to the 1888 convention on the Suez Canal." He added that from now on all Suez Canal tolls must be paid to Egyptian authorities.

West Has Two Points

The Western Powers have two principal bargaining points in addition to the less direct pressure of world opinion.

For one, the United States and Britain have frozen very substantial Egyptian assets under their control. Nasser wants them released but experts here doubt they will be a decisive factor.

The other is the fact that not only the nations of Western Europe but also those of South Asia and Africa and many of the Arab states themselves, have an interest in reliable transport through the canal.

In attempting to prevent accidents, the class has made a chart recording all accidents in which they have been involved in the last few days. They are analyzing why these happened and what they can do to prevent further mishaps.

Large pictures were made by each child, depicting himself engaged in a safety habit. Stories were written to go with these pictures. As a group the class has read many safety stories and poems, also.

Remodeling a doll house has been one of the major projects in the first grade room taught by Miss Maryalice Virtue. In their free time the children have painted and papered rooms, made curtains, rugs and other furnishings.

A hand puppet stage was made, of brown wrapping paper taped across one corner of the room. Children painted their own scenery which was taped a few inches back of the stage opening. Two casts were used since everyone had a puppet.

Illustrations of other Walt Disney stories were made in the form of a crayon panel in the class.

Science Students From St. Mary Vie for Honors

20 Displays Selected For Competition in District Judging

By JUNE ROSEBERRY

Science on parade is the best way to describe the 41 student projects at St. Mary School which can be seen in almost every available corner of the basement where the science classes are conducted.

Since early in February 78 students of Max Ross' general science and biology classes have been at work translating some phase of their classroom study into a demonstration project.

Twenty of the projects were outstanding enough to be selected for showing at the district science fair in Columbus, March 30. Those which receive superior ratings in that competition will be among the displays shown at the State Science Fair at Bowling Green University, April 19.

SUBJECT material of the exhibits ranges from diagrams and explanations of the oil refining process to electric tension testers and even geiger counters with atoms and atomic rays explained. Students worked on them individually and in groups.

Among the displays, one particularly showed the use of imagination. It was intricate in detail and factually correct in every respect. This entry, submitted by Mike Nicolosi and Joe Krigbaum, received the only 100 per cent rating, according to Mr. Ross.

The title of the display was "Spider, Nature's Engineer." On large posters the boys traced the development of the web and pictured cross section drawings of the spider, with each segment of the tiny worker's body labeled.

To set off their sketches the boys wove an intricate pattern of the spider's web with delicate silver wire, fixing it to two pieces of perpendicular finished wood, so that the web was projected.

Perhaps the most tedious appearing of all the displays was the one done by Angel McNamara, Sheila Chaney and Susan Flynn, showing the production of sugar maple syrup.

In addition to posters showing the scientific principle involved and the sap collecting process, the exhibit contained a table model of a sugar maple camp, complete with trees from which the sap was being drained, and even figures of workers.

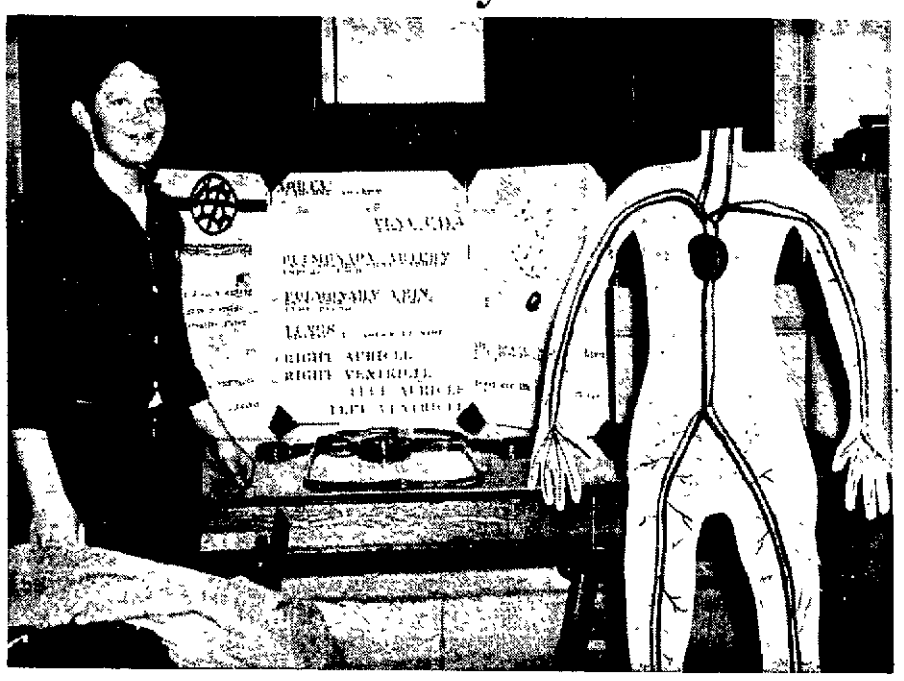
EACH OF THE projects was judged on the basis of posters and the hand constructed area. Factors considered in the order of their importance were: information, neatness, balance and relationship.

In the construction phase of the project Mr. Ross considered these things: knowledge shown, effective method of construction, basis for idea and the area's relationship to science.

Students other than those already mentioned whose exhibits will be submitted in district competition are: Joe Sens, Bob Dendinger, Al Peacock, Lois LaValley, Marcia McMahon, John Kelleher, Bob Cramer, Mike Teets, John O'Brian, John Cronin, Dennis Shearer, Richard Stevenson, Art Tyde, Joe Cochran, Kay Barzacchini, Ann Hogan, Lynn Watters, Jim Nemeth, Dick Bigler, Ambrose Clay, Jeff Higley, Ray Hirneise, Dick Meyers, Steve Gibb, Judy Head, Judy Shambaugh, Mike Bowe and Pat Wissler.



RICHARD STEPHENSON SHOWS one of the St. Mary biology displays which has been chosen for entry in the district science fair at Columbus March 30. The display, in which he was assisted by Dennis Shearer, shows the intricate mechanism of the circulatory system, defined and illustrated in three posters plus a table model of the heart mechanism. At the right a wood constructed figure traces the vast network of arteries and veins throughout the human body. A total of 20 displays, representative of contributions from the general science and biology classes, will be exhibited at the fair.

Students of Harding High, St. Mary Will Participate

Students of Harding and St. Mary high schools will receive guidance in choosing a vocation at the 16th annual "Career Day" program Tuesday morning.

More than 60 representatives of varied professions and vocations will speak to groups of students interested in their fields.

Even homemaking and the armed forces as careers will be among the discussion subjects.

Individual group conferences will be held at 9:40 and 10:45, giving students an opportunity to attend two sessions of their choosing.

Book Corner

The book selected for review this week is "The Great Discovery" by Azriel Louis Eisenberg. It is the story for young readers of the Dead Sea Scrolls.

This is a true and exciting account of the finding of the scrolls and of their historical significance. Without departing from fact, the story is told in a manner which makes the discovery a thrilling adventure.

The author gives an important role to the Arab boy who by accident found the ancient manuscripts in a cave near the Dead Sea.

This book will give young readers a real understanding of the historical importance of these 2,000 year-old documents.

The author, Mr. Eisenberg, has the ability to present factual material to children in an entertaining and instructive manner. This book is available in the Boys and Girls Department of the Carnegie Public Library.

Closing service of a Lenten revival effort at Calvary EUB Church was held Sunday night. The evangelist, Rev. Walter Adams of Shelby, was heard at both morning and evening services and the song evangelist, Miss Gertrude Cooper of Findlay, presented solos both times. Her morning number was, "Thy Blood Was Shed" and in the evening she sang, "When We See His Face" and, with illustrated picture and special lighting, "The Ninety and Nine." Prayer at the evening service was by Rev. George Godorhazy, a student at United Seminary at Dayton.

The closing sermon was on, "The Overcomer." Rev. Adams told his hearers, "You can overcome the enemy of your soul first by prayer. Christians have to come to the place where we can pray under any consideration or circumstance. We need to learn to pray, to testify and to read God's Word." ## OWU Has Second Oldest Depository Library in Nation

DELAWARE — Slocum Library of Ohio Wesleyan University is the second oldest "depository library" in the United States according to figures released by the Federal government to J. Herrold Lancaster, director of the library.

Slocum Library was designated as a depository library (one which houses literature printed by the federal government) by the congressman from this district in 1845. It is second in age to the American Antiquarian Society of Worchester, Mass., which became a depository library in 1814.

There are 570 similar libraries in the nation, and the OWU library is one of two in Ohio's 17th Congressional District which preserve and make available the material from the government printing office.

According to Mr. Lancaster, Slocum Library receives about one-third of the 15,000 yearly government publications, and these are all accessible to Delaware residents as well as OWU students. He estimated that the students refer to over 1,000 of the Federal documents each year.

'Poison Gas' Scare Is Over At South Point

Fertilizer Plant Fire Out; Clouds of Fumes Dissipate Over Area

SOUTH POINT, Ohio (AP) — The "poison gas" scare in this section of the Ohio Valley is over.

Clouds of pungent fumes from a fire at the Atmospheric Nitrogen Co. here spread for miles over parts of Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky Saturday, causing residents to evacuate or prepare for evacuation as early reports indicated the fumes were mildly poisonous. The fumes came from a burning pile of some 45,000 tons of chemical fertilizer.

Plant chemists said later, however, that although the fumes contained chlorine and oxides of nitrogen, they were not strong enough to damage either lives or property.

By Sunday, the fumes had completely disappeared, the state highway patrol said, and the fire had been extinguished, although firemen were still pouring water into the concrete building that housed the fertilizer. Those who had evacuated were back in their homes, the patrol said.

Patrolmen said sight-seers arrived in a steady stream at the plant Sunday, occasionally creating traffic jams on nearby highways.

Patrolmen said no one was injured and no one required medical treatment for exposure to the fumes.

Chief John Gallagher of the Huntington, W. Va., fire department, which helped fight the blaze, said the loss probably would amount to "several million dollars." However, company officials declined to estimate the damage and said that they would have a conference with insurance adjustors in an attempt to arrive at a figure.

FERTILIZER BURNS. This is an aerial view of fire in warehouse of the Atmospheric Nitrogen Co., at South Point, O. Dense smoke clouds contained chlorine and oxides of nitrogen which resulted in alerts along the Ohio River in Ohio and West Virginia and Kentucky. Chemists said concentrations of the gases was not sufficient to cause injury, but fumes were detected in Huntington, W. Va., 12 miles to the southeast.

Golfer Breaks Arm

GREENSBURG, Pa (AP) — Aleon Deitch of Fox Chapel is suffering from a fractured right forearm today, and it's mostly because he tried to play winter golf in the North instead of the South.

Deitch and three of his friends were playing golf at Westermoreland Country Club Thursday. On the ninth hole, Deitch had a good drive that carried the ball within 75 yards of the green. For his pitch shot, Deitch selected a No. 9 iron but cut too deeply into the frozen turf and broke his arm.

Freighter Freed

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The coal freighter Sultana, aground two days in Lake Erie near Toledo Harbor Light, was freed today by tugs and two Coast Guard cutters, the Tupelo and the Acacia.

The 353-foot vessel, manned by a crew of 31 and owned by Nicholson Transit Co., suffered no appreciable damage.

Drifting ice pushed her out of the channel and onto a mud and clay bottom as she was enroute to Detroit after loading at the Chesapeake & Ohio docks Saturday.

Stewardess, Maimed In Boat Accident, Wed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Mrs. Charles M. Blalack, the pretty newlywed, wears that shiny ring on her right hand.

She's the former Boni Buehler, 27, the onetime airline stewardess who lost her left arm and leg in a 1953 speedboat accident.

Boni and Blalack, 29, a San Marino, Calif., investment broker and social figure, were married here Saturday in the climax to an eight-month romance. They met on a blind date.

Boni walked down the aisle on an artificial leg. A cape on her dress hid the missing arm.

CONSTIPATED?
new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

AND, OF ALL LAXATIVES, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk that activates normal colonic reflexes. So effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Devises Safe Runway for Planes

U.S. Expert on Ice Saves 'Operation Deep Freeze'

McMURDO SOUND (NANA)—During the final airlift phase of Operation Deep Freeze 92-ton Globemasters of the 18th Air Force took off and landed on as little as six inches of ice, reinforced by "ice-crete."

"Ice-crete," or ice concrete, was used secretly in World War II to build walls of ice armor against enemy bullets, but has never before been used to build a runway, Dr. Andrew Assur, one of the three top ice experts in the world, reports.

But for this desperate measure, completion of the scientific station at the South Pole would have been impossible, Deep Freeze officers point out. The 6,000-foot runway on the sea ice, scraped clear of snow by Seabees of Task Force 43 last October, resembled a battlefield after the summer sun of this tropical Antarctic had bored potholes in its surface as deep shell holes.

Thirty - ton tractors trying to smooth the runway with bulldozer blades broke through the surface ice into holes so deep it took another tractor to extricate them. It would have taken months for nature to freeze these pools solid, and then they would have heaved up into impossible humps.

SO REAR ADMIRAL George J. Dufek, commander of Task Force 43, called in Dr. Assur to prescribe for the sick runway from which the Globemasters still had to haul nearly 200 tons of additional food, fuel oil, machinery, equipment and building materials for completion of the International Geophysical Year station at the South Pole now occupied by nine scientists and nine Navy "housekeepers."

When Dr. Assur, top specialist of SIPRE, (the Army's snow, ice and permafrost research establishment at Wilmette, Ill.) arrived Jan. 23, seals were frolicking on the runway from which more than 500 tons of cargo had been airlifted to the pole and Marie Byrd Land in November and December, 1956. Twelve of them had set up housekeeping on the very edge of the runway where the ice was from 8 to 11 feet thick. Dr. Assur fell through holes waist deep as he inspected the runway.

As the Antarctic autumn settled in and the ice began to freeze in the deep potholes, Navy Seabees commanded by Commander W. F. Flynn, under the watchful eye of Dr. Assur, began breaking the surface ice in the deep holes on the ice surface, then filling them with a calculated mixture of ice blocks, ice chips and snow, mixed with a little water. This mixture froze from the bottom and froze fast, setting like concrete, which it resembles.

ON THE SURFACE of this mixture a thin skim of solid ice six to eight inches thick was allowed to form. Hundreds of smaller potholes dotted the runway in which air pockets were trapped under surface ice. The weight of a jeep or a weasel would break them. A score of men were requisitioned from the ships unloading supplies along the edge of the sea ice to find every air pocket and fill it with "ice-crete."

Time was growing short as the days grew shorter and colder at the South Pole. Soon outside work would be impossible. The supplies, which could be furnished to the pole only by air, had to be dropped soon.

At the last moment huge lakes of blue ice, apparently sound, were tested by Dr. Assur and found unable to hold the weight of a Globemaster. Dr. Assur called for dynamite and more than 30 blasts were set off to break open the deep holes. Once exposed and filled with "ice-crete" they froze over night.

Would the six to eight-inch skin of solid ice over this loose rubble of ice concrete hold the mighty Globemasters? No such desperate measures had ever been tried before, even on medium-sized transports, much less the world's biggest operational cargo plane.

Dr. Assur's final calculations said it would. Col. H. A. Crosswell, commander of the Air Force task unit supporting Operation Deep Freeze, gently touched down on the man-made ice. The Globemaster was taxied gingerly over the thinnest of the ice patches, completed barely 24 hours before. Although temperatures were barely freezing, the ice held.

In a matter of hours the first 10 tons of vital supplies had been dropped at the pole, 100 tons in the first four days. The experiment had paid off. Dr. Assur, adviser to U.S. military experts around the globe, had a new chapter to add to his book of rules for ice operations— a book he has been helping to write for the last several years from the shadow of the North Pole to the shadow of the South Pole.

HAD A PRIOR COMMITMENT. Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) and his wife, who holds baby Tierney Elizabeth, pose at their Washington home with 10-year-old Betsy Tuttle of Eagle River, Wis., a house guest. McCarthy, who was not invited to a White House reception for Congress members and their wives, said he could not have attended the Tuesday affair because of a prior commitment—the entertainment in his home of Betsy and her father, H. S. (Ben) Tuttle. Betsy holds a group of autographed place cards obtained for her by McCarthy at a dinner given by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.).

Unwieldy for Certain

The president of Ohio's 23 - member State Board of Education cannot be critized for defending it against Gov. O'Neill's observation that it is "unwieldy and not effective."

But President Robert A. Manchester will have to admit that a 23 - member board is not what could be called "wieldy." Whether or not it is not what could be called "effective" is still a matter of opinion after a year's operation.

The ideal setup for the state's first board would have been a small group of citizens appointed by the governor of Ohio for special qualifications, subject to the approval of the Ohio Senate.

This would have given Ohio a fighting chance to get and to keep, under a succession of conscientious governors, a professionally - competent board, small enough to be manageable and cohesive.

Perhaps the 23 - member board may prove to be professionally competent as time passes and it overcomes its built - in handicap. But its unwieldiness is a fact. In the General Assembly's floundering attempt to find a formula for bringing it into existence, a board member from each of 23 congressional districts was not a happy compromise.

Kennedy Plus Knowland

When young John F. Kennedy, 39, U.S. senator from Massachusetts, told fellow Democrats to get set for young Richard N. Nixon, 44, as the man to beat in the 1960 presidential election, he was exhibiting the political savvy that makes him a potential presidential candidate himself.

At the same time, he was pin - pointing Vice President Nixon's position in the political spectrum. It is the position now occupied by President Eisenhower.

In doing this he was in agreement with a fellow senator in an even better position to talk about the young vice president's political coloration — Sen. Knowland of California.

Sen. Knowland is resigning from the Senate to free his hands — and feet — for his own race for presidential honors in 1960. He has left no room for doubt that he is going to run as an arch-conservative, because he thinks Mr. Nixon will bear off in the other direction, following in President Eisenhower's footsteps.

This should settle an argument being prolonged as recently as the 1956 presidential campaign — whether Mr. Nixon was only biding his time to betray to the party's arch-conservatives the man who had picked him for second place on the Republican ticket in 1952, or whether he was in thorough accord with Mr. Eisenhower's "moderation."

Sen. Knowland, his fellow Californian, is in a better position to know where Mr. Nixon stands than anyone besides President Eisenhower, himself. The two Californians — Nixon and Knowland — will be at opposite extremes in the contest for the GOP presidential nomination in 1960.

Sen. Knowland is already well advanced in his campaign to be against President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon on everything.

Retract the Tabs!

Even though the temperature stays low, the dogs know . . .

It is time to take off to see how the world came through the winter, to investigate the evergreens, to see what lies beyond the horizon.

It is always fair weather when good dogs get together. They mean no mischief, but they get into mischief just the same. They know nothing about boundary lines and human beings who do not like dogs.

And that is why every year this time the dog warden has more complaints than he has any other time, and it is why people who take responsibility for dogs should take their responsibility more seriously than usual.

The dogs are not to blame. Their masters are. Help them celebrate the coming of spring by keeping them from making a nuisance of themselves as they romp forth to meet it halfway.

Retract your ear-tabs, grandpa, and take heed. The dog warden is picking up springtime strays. Strays? The dogs know where they are, but their masters do not know. Unfortunately, the dog warden's office is not equipped to pick up masters, although they are at fault.

How Much Demand?

Old John N. Garner (88) who said he never would go back to Washington when he left it to go home to Uvalde, Texas, in 1941, kept his promise. He stayed put.

But he never quit thinking about the federal government, which had been his political workshop as a Texas congressman, speaker of the House of Representatives and vice president of the United States for 38 years. One of his thoughts could well be read at the beginning of every local meeting to frame strategy for squeezing money out of the U.S. Treasury.

"It isn't taxes that are too high," Mr. Garner told U.S. News & World Report. "It's the government appropriating too much money. It's the appropriations that are too high. You only levy taxes to pay for what Congress has done."

Ike Works for Peace

By Jay G. Hayden

President Averts War on Four Occasions

President Eisenhower's seemingly successful ending of the Suez war—launched by Britain, France and Israel last October — is the fourth instance in which he has stopped strife which very well might have flared into a third world war.

The others were the Korean truce, accomplished in July, 1953; ending of the Indo -Chinese war in July, 1954; stoppage of the fighting between Nationalist and Communist Chinese, begun by Communist attack on the Tachens Islands in January, 1955.

As in the present instance, the after outlook from these developments was messy but the net effect of all of them until now has been steady movement toward permanent peace in the crucial areas concerned.

Consider the history of Korea: The war there had been going on for more than three years. Truce talks, begun in July, 1951, had persisted for two years and 17 days before the peacewise break. A month before the truce agreement, at end of July, 1953, the South Korea dictator, Syngman Rhee, seemingly upset the whole applecart by suddenly releasing 27,000 anti - Communist North Korea prisoners.

SIX THOUSAND Indian soldiers, brought in to police the peace, quickly got into a scrap with Rhee's proclaimed "All - Korean Government."

Six months later, the Indian troops, under Lieut. Gen. Thimayya, finally succeeded in evacuating Korean soil peacefully because the American commander of the U. S. Eighth Army Lieut. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, notified President Rhee that his force was on the job and would "deal appropriately with any interference" with the scheduled Indian departure.

Senator Knowland, Republican floor leader of the Senate, at that time was proclaiming the Korean truce a "surrender" and "another Munich."

An international commission set up to police the Korean truce, equally divided between Communist and anti - Communist nations — Poland and Czechoslovakia on one side and Sweden and Switzerland on the other — had long since given up in disgust.

Even so, North and South Korea remain essentially peaceful and are getting more so every day.

Mr. Eisenhower's part in Indo-China was different in that he vetoed a motion supported by all American chiefs of staff excepting the Army's Gen. Matthew Ridgway that the U.S. should send air forces to save the beleaguered French fort of Dienbienphu.

Failure of such intervention no doubt spelled the doom of French colonialism in Asia but dire predictions at the time that this meant losing Asia to Communist rule are far from confirmed.

TO THE CONTRARY, the native government of South Vietnam, set up by the United States against the wishes of Great Britain as well as France, has thrived most remarkedly.

Latest reports are that it is the Communists in North Vietnam who are struggling for life as against a growing movement to unite all the country under the South Vietnam's government headed by the unquestionably democratic Premier Ngo Dinh Diem.

The most serious new war scare of the Eisenhower period was the one over the Formosan strait in early 1955. Even Congress then was scared into fast movement, to the point of voting within the short span of four days the president unlimited power to act.

But the crisis continued for several months; so much so that the U. S. chief of naval operations, Adm. Robert Carney, blighted his professional career by prophesying that the U.S. and Communist China would be at war by Mid-April.

Relations between Washington and Peiping still are strained but nobody any longer talks seriously of war between them.

THE SUEZ CRISIS easily was the toughest for Mr. Eisenhower because it appeared to be deliberately timed on the eve of last November's election, in the hope that the U. S government in consequence would hesitate to intervene.

President Eisenhower, however, left off a southern campaign tour to declare flatly in a nationwide broadcast that the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt was a violation of the principles laid down by the United Nations.

The United States, he said, was moving for a cease-fire and would press for action by the U.N. General Assembly "with no veto operating."

Since that beginning last October the going has been very tough. But the net result, as now indicated, is that Britain, France and Israel on one side and Egypt on the other have bowed to the U.S. demand for peaceful solution.

Isn't This Where We Came In?

Long-Range Foreign Aid Policy

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower made a pitch last year for long-range foreign aid. It wasn't a very strong pitch and he lost. This year, with some outside help, he may try again.

Congress has steadfastly clung to the idea of aid on a year-by-year basis ever since 1948 when, with the Marshall Plan, this country first set up foreign assistance on a big scale.

Economic aid is designed to help backward and underdeveloped countries. But the year-by-year arrangements prevents this country and the receiving nations from planning developments which takes years to complete. For example: river and harbor and waterpower development, or highways and railroads.

SO IN 1956 Eisenhower asked Congress to approve a foreign aid program which would permit carrying on some projects for as much as 10 years. He didn't ask for money for 10 years, all in a lump. But he wanted congressional promises that would make long-range planning possible.

He ran into stiff opposition and apparently backed away. Neither he nor his aides made much of a fight. Instead, he concentrated on trying to get Congress to give him the full $4,900,000,000 he has asked for one year. Congress didn't go along on that either. It cut more than a billion off his request.

But there was agreement between Eisenhower and Congress that it was time for some fairly thorough studies on the whole problem of foreign aid. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee hired 11 research organizations and assigned 10 men familiar with foreign affairs to do the job.

TWO DIFFERENT groups appointed by Eisenhower went to work. They were made up of representatives of business, labor, agriculture and the public. One was headed by Benjamin F. Fairless, steel executive, and the other, continuing advisory body, by Eric Johnston.

The Senate study reports have been pouring out in recent weeks. Most of them favor long-term aid. In the past week the Fairless and Johnston groups have reported. They favor long-term aid.

So if Eisenhower wants to propose a 10-year program again this year he has a lot of support — at least outside Congress. It's still questionable the full Congress will go along with the idea

And right now inside the Eisenhower administration it is understood some of the President's top advisers are chilly to long-range commitments.

JOHNSTON'S GROUP expressed belief there is wide misunderstanding in this country on the amount and kind of aid being given. This is a brief breakdown:

Of the $3,800,000,000 billion voted by Congress last year, about two billions is in military assistance; another $1,200,000,000 in economic help to the nations getting military assistance; and 250 millions for economic development in neutral countries.

The remainder goes to international agencies, to technical assistance, into presidential funds for emergency relief, or into the cost of administering the program.

The Johnston group reported that roughly two thirds of the non-military aid goes to six countries: Turkey, Pakistan, Iran, South Korea, Viet Nam, and the Nationalist republic of China. They have a population of 170 million.

The remaining third goes to underdeveloped countries having a 900 million population.

Canada Endows Colleges

By ERIC DOWNTON

OTTAWA

The largest scheme of official aid to Canadian culture and higher education ever undertaken in the dominion's history is about to be launched.

A bill will shortly become law, after passing through Parliament, empowering the government to establish an organization known as the Canada Council. The Council is to be endowed by the government with 100 million dollars capital—a great deal of money for a nation of only just over 16 million people.

This is the Liberal party administration's answer — strategically timed a matter of weeks before a general election — to well - worn charges that Canada is neglecting its cultural life in obsession with material progress.

It is also a step to counter what has become known as "the universities' crisis" — the swamping of university facilities by a rapidly growing population.

The minister of finance is to pay the council two separate sums of 50 million dollars. One will create an endowment fund for the council's own use in fostering the arts, humanities and social sciences. The other will be known as the "University Capital Grants Fund."

There are no strings attached which might raise fears the government is moving obliquely toward control of this young country's intellectual thought processes. Management of the whole capital is to be in the 21-member council's own hands, with the "advice" of an investment committee, part of whose membership will be government-appointed.

For the university fund it is stipulated the money can be invested only in Canadian government bonds and securities.

Deep concern is felt here over the prospect of universities being unable to keep pace with the rising population.

Very considerable expansion programs will need to be launched within the years immediately ahead if the proportion of students receiving higher education is even to be maintained at today's by no means adequate levels.

The challenge to improve that proportion, not merely maintain it, is urgently realized.

The University Capital Grants Fund is intended as a sparking move to encourage provinces, communities and industries to raise comparable funds.

Council grants will be devoted especially to aiding universities and institutions of higher learning with building projects.

A Disease?

By JAMES FREE

WASHINGTON

A House subcommittee is preparing to tackle the formidable task of trying to convince the American people that the scourge of automobile accident injuries and deaths can be checked.

A resolution is pending that would continue the traffic safety subcommittee of the Interstate and foreign Commerce Committee under chairman Kenneth Roberts. There has been no opposition, and approval is expected shortly.

Chairman Roberts feels, after his group's preliminary studies and hearings last year that the traffic accident problem must be attacked as if it were a disease.

"First," he said, "we should find out as scientifically as possible just what causes various kinds of automobile accidents. There is a lot of piecemeal data and some of it may be accurate. But we need a really intensive research job, one performed by expert analysts.

"Once we knew for sure the basic, underlying causes, then we could take steps—by federal laws if necessary—to correct them."

The Alabamian thinks Congress can serve as a "sounding board" and a guiding force in bringing about an effective kind of research can be done on basic causes of accidents, just as a special project at Cornell University has done effective research on the causes of injuries — after automobile accidents happen.

Ford and Chrysler motor companies put up a total of $400,000 and federal funds were available from the Public Health Service. Cornell's medical college set up a project known as "Automotive Crash Injury Research"

By study of official accident reports from 12 states, Mr. Moore's project group proved to several automobile manufacturers that their cars made between 1950-54 were not a bit safer—after accidents happened —than were their cars turned out between 1940 and 1949. Also, that their 1955 cars showed no measurable improvement in this safety factor.

The Cornell studies also showed that the chief injury hazards in an automobile—once it is involved in an accident—are, in this order: The steering wheel, the instrument panel, the windshield, the back of the front seat, the top, the doors.

Tests showed that safety belts tended to cut down impact injuries. So did instrument panels that collapse or give under heavy pressure. So did doors that did not fly open when the car hit something.

By experiments with safety belts on 1956 cars, the Cornell group found that the post-accident safety factor could be improved by as much as 60 per cent. Better door catches on 1956 cars, it was found, could cut down on ejection injuries by as much as 47 per cent.

Rep. Roberts agrees with Mr. Moore that the Cornell-type of research can continue to reduce injuries but that another kind of research must be done to get at basic causes of accidents.

Is it speed? Or too much power? Or not enough braking capacity? Or lax requirments for drivers' licenses? Or poorly designed highways? Or not good enough or standard enough traffic laws?

Lexicography Lesson

By TRUMAN TWILL

It is my personal impression there is more interest than usual right now in the meanings of names like "liberal," "socialist," "reactionary" and ons that keeps cropping up—"old fuddy-duddy."

"Old fuddy - duddy" is a term of contempt at its worst and at its best a belittling endearment. It is possible to be fond of an "old fuddy - duddy" without taking any stock in fuddy - duddiness.

The expression never has reached the dictionary so it can be discussed freely for what it is, not what some cautious lexicographer says it is.

A fuddy - duddy is a person who would rather be where he imagines he came from than where he is or where he fears he is going. The trouble is that where he imagines he came from is not where he ever was, because at the time he was there he was as fuddy-duddyish as he is now.

Fuddy-duddiness is, therefore, an anachronistic state of mind which makes everything seem out of place, time-wise. The present should be more like the past. The past should have been more like the future. But the future, as it looms nearer, is something to be dreaded because it is going to be more like the past when the past was bad instead of good, as the fuddy-duddy first said it was.

An old fuddy-duddy is a fuddy-duddy so firmly set in his or her ways there is no possibility of change. A young fuddy-duddy may outgrow the affliction, as in fact most young fuddy-duddies do, if given enough time to get into tune with the times they are living in.

The times, of course, have much to do with the behavior of both old and young fuddy-duddys. The expressions of contempt they use to discredit critics and opponents are determined by whatever happens to be the dirtiest word on the end of a cigar at the moment.

A few years ago one of the dirtiest words was "progressive," an insult that since has gone quietly into limbo and should be kept there Today, the dirtiest one, judged by the frequency with which it is used, is "so-called liberal," a phrase that suggests a tinge of red and a strong trace of intellectual dishonesty and misrepresentation.

It will be recalled that another one of the dirtiest things a human being could be called not too long ago was "fascist," another word that has fallen into blessed disuse, and today, also out of style.

But "fuddy - duddy" is here to stay. It is the pet name for all people who are chronically out of step with their times — people who take refuge in an imaginary past because they are contemptuous of the present and fearful of the future — people who want to turn the clock back to some time it never was because they cannot stand to see it ticking off more time than they ever will be able to comprehend.

They do not know what the world is coming to so they demand that it stop, which is a perfectly safe thing to demand because if it stopped everybody would fall off.

Once you understand fuddy-duddies, those other words explain themselves.

Van Doren and Uncle Sam

If Charles Van Doren, King of the Jackpot Gold Coast, had quit at $143,000 Washington would have taken all but $34,000, a tax expert figures.

A question which could befuddle Charles might therefore be "How far is up and if you make the distance are you ahead?"

This seems to us pretty unfair. Does it make remote sense for the government to swing a hatchet at education, brain power and intensive study?

What encouragement to schooling and intellectual attainment is given when the government uses a vacuum cleaner on any man demonstrating their benefits?

HERE WE HAVE UNCLE SAM constantly expressing concern about our schools, trying to impress on the young the advantages of education and yet sandbagging a scholarly citizen who over a coast - to - coast network is giving proof of such values in a manner that grips millions!

TV is really televising a picture (and a "spectacular") of Uncle Sam making a target of the country's best publicized brain, while at the same time screaming that nothihg is of greater importance in the present world crisis than good schooling!

This is not to say that there could be any less taken legally.

The point raised by TV fans is that somehow it just seems unfair. It suggests a tax on education, homework, mental concentration, a lifelong pursuit of knowledge, a remarkable memory, and a levy on the human brain and companionship with the Goddess of Fortune.

WITH VAN DOREN winning $143,000 and getting only $34,000, you can't escape the conclusion he couldn't do much worse if he had never been to school in his life and was unable to give Gen. Grant's first name or tell what country the Mississippi ran through.

THE EFFECT on the young has been disastrous Parents have for weeks been saying to Junior, "Look what Charles Van Doren has done because he liked school and did his homework. Why can't you be like him?"

Now they are getting the answer, "Ya mean spend all that time in a hotbox for $143,000 and find out the government grabs it!!!"

We heard one kid declare, "Van Doren is not so smart. He must be dumb or he wouldn't take the punishment."

THIS CORNER THINKS Washington instead of taking a big share of Van Doren's winnings should add a pot of gold to them. It would be getting a big boost for education cheap.

Business tycoons and all the rest of us have to take the same tax cut by percentage, you say?

Yes, but a tycoon takes no risk of having his ignorance shown up over a national network. He suffers nothing if he has no idea of the middle initial of three of Napoleon's first cousins and which two had the mumps.

They never take a chance on revealing that they can't locate the Sea of Marmara or name eleven vice presidents who didn't like turnip greens. Fair is fair.

IT APPEARS that the secretary of labor has pulled the lap-robe out from Dave Beck, head of the teamsters and stalled the wagon on that European ride.

The American Bar Association has filed with the Supreme Court a brief supporting the authority of congressional committees to demand that witnesses name commie associates. . . .We wonder what the reaction to this will be by all those lawyers who make a specialty of advising the complete clam-up and who make a production number of advising clients to circumvent Uncle Sam at every point.

Frank Loeser, one of the nation's most talented song writers, and his wife have parted after 20 years of marriage, the wife testifying that he wanted an out "so he could find himself." It's curious how the feeling a man is lost comes so frequently after he has found about every success in life.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO—Pope Benedict in Rome received a letter from Empress Zita of Austria informing him that open Italian towns and cities would no longer be bombarded by Austrian aviators.

At least 30 were estimated dead in a tornado which swept Indinapaolis, New Castle and other parts of Indiana. Nineteen were killed in New Castle, when the storm swooped down and toppled every house in a five-block area.

20 YEARS AGO — Elijah George Emptage, 96, the oldest Civil War veteran in Marion County and one of the county's last pioneer residents, died at his home two miles southeast of Marseilles

Their streets still marked by the aftermath of the record flood, two Ohio River communities, Cincinnati and Portsmouth, considered plans to rebuild on higher ground.

Gracie Fields, popular English film star, arrived in New York en route to Hollywood where she was under contract for several films.

The Marion Metal Products Co. on Monroe St. let a contract to construct an addition giving the plant 10,000 square feet of extra floor space. The contract was awarded to E. Eiford and Son of Columbus and work was to begin about April 15.

10 YEARS AGO — City police started a search locally for a youth who, they said, stole a radio from a child patient at City Hospital and later pawned it for $10.

France and Britain joined with the U.S. to block a Soviet attempt to place a discussion of China on the conference agenda during the Big Four meeting.

A building in the recently flooded area of Cincinnati collapsed, leaving five men buried under the debris. After working three hours to rescue them, firemen still were unsuccessful. The men's voices, which at first had been loud, grew weaker, and hope for their recovery dwindled.

Daily Bible Thought

Many imagine that there is virtue in going to church as an end in itself. If we ignore every moral teaching and live selfishly and in sensuality we gain nothing at all from empty forms divorced from sincerity. "Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only." —James 1:22.

San Diego Police Quiz Ex-Ohio Convict in Kidnaping of Boy, 8

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Police here held 53-year-old Robert Haine Hemming today charged with suspicion of kidnaping an 8-year-old boy.

Hemming told police he was once accused of kidnaping the daughter of an Ohio State University professor and had been released from Ohio State Penitentiary last Dec. 28 after serving 10 years for passing bad checks. He said he was not prosecuted on the Ohio kidnaping charge.

The boy, Larry Allen Olsen, was found running down U.S. 101 early Sunday. He had been missing since shortly before noon Saturday when a playmate said he left an ocean beach with the man.

Police said Hemming admitted he was arrested on a charge of kidnaping the Ohio State co-ed New Year's Day 1947 but insisted he was not prosecuted on the charge.

Columbus newspaper files indicated Hemming was charged in a grand jury indictment with kidnaping Mary Virginia Kimberly, 20, and with passing bad checks. He was convicted and sent to prison on the check charge.

Police said the Olsen boy told them Hemming bought him ice cream and gave him wine to drink. He spent Saturday night at at a motel with Hemming and was then taken by the man to a place on the highway and released to go home, police said.

Police said Hemming insisted he had not molested or harmed the boy. They said the boy said the same.

Jesus Loved Them

LAZARUS

". . . he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave clothes . . ."

—John XI:43,44

It is easy to understand the confusion, unbelief, and astonishment of the people who witnessed this event.

Lazarus, the friend of Jesus and the brother of Martha and Mary, had been dead four days. The practical Martha told Jesus, when He asked them to take away the stone from before the dead man's tomb:

"Lord, by this time he stinketh."

Saddened a little by the lack of faith, even in His closest friends, Jesus ignored the objections and, lifted His face heavenward in a brief prayer:

"Father, I thank thee that thou heardest me. And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the multitude that standeth around I said it, that they may believe that thou didst send me."

Then He called into the dark tomb, "Lazarus, come forth."

Lazarus came stumbling out, still wrapped in his grave clothes.

"Loose him," said Jesus, "and let him go."

No doubt, as Lazarus walked again as a man and flexed his muscles painfully as feeling returned to his limbs, he tried to recall what it had been like to be dead and entombed.

It is quite likely that he could recall only a blank state of unconsciousness, similar to sleep, for Jesus had said:

"Our friend Lazarus sleepeth; but I go that I may awake him out of sleep."

Both Martha and Mary reproached Jesus with the same words before He had recalled Lazarus from the tomb:

"Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died."

Perhaps it was for them, for their lack of faith, for their blindness to His true identity that Jesus wept in that moment, rather than for His friend Lazarus, whom He was about to restore to life. For the answer He gave Martha is the answer that lives today as the solace of all Christians who mourn for their loved ones:

"I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth on me, though he die, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth on me, shall never die."

Matter of Life or Death, Refugee Mayor Says

DETROIT (AP)—Joseph Koevago, mayor of Budapest during the Hungarian uprising last fall, says he is "not very proud that I escaped."

"The best Hungarians are those at home, but it was a question of life or death," Koevago told a dinner group honoring him Sunday night.

"The flower of our nation is more useful in this big, free, country than in the cemetery," he said. "When Hungary is free again, those who can go home will take back the spirit of liberty with them."

Save an extra nickel out of every dollar

—to help keep prices from going higher

Don't let anyone tell you that living costs have to keep climbing. We can check inflation.

One of the main causes of rising prices is overspending. If each of us will save only an extra nickel out of every dollar we earn, we will put a strong brake on inflation.

For this will produce billions of dollars in savings—money which is urgently needed to finance more factories, homes and schools.

And, of course, you get a personal bonus from your extra savings—the feeling of independence and security that a growing nest egg brings . . . the feeling that your house is in order.

As a second step to fight inflation, all of us should support every reasonable move to reduce government spending—federal, state and local.

Sure, all this means a sacrifice. But isn't it worth it, if this means continuing our prosperity—and keeping it sound?

Salvage Team Awaiting Okay On Canal Work

Go-Ahead Is Expected Tuesday for Removal Of Last Obstacles

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — U. N. salvage teams moved into position today for the job of removing the last two obstructions in the Suez Canal. If the Egyptians give an expected go ahead Tuesday, the obstructions can be cleared in less than a month—thus opening the canal to ships of maximum draft and tonnage almost a month ahead of schedule.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, who is in charge of the U. N. operations, expects a green light from the Egyptians at any moment to proceed with removal of the tug Edgar Bonnet and the Egyptian warship Abukir. Egyptian authorities have said unofficially the teams will be able to get to work Tuesday.

Dredging Issue

A big problem will be dredging. Most of the canal's dredging equipment has been lost. Since the canal was closed last November there has been little silting, but as soon as heavy ships start moving heavy silting will begin. Three dredgers are working now.

As canal clearance moved ahead, the political problems remained. President Nasser says he isn't sure whether he would abide by any world court ruling which would permit Israeli ships to pass through the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Nasser's views appeared in a Cairo newspaper even as Israel announced she would ignore any World Court decisions on cases brought up by the Arab states. Israel's official gazette carried this statement over the signature of Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

Version Conflict

The Nasser interview, which originally appeared in the Indian weekly Blitz, conflicted with earlier reports that Egypt would be willing to let the international tribunal decide whether the Tiran Strait and Gulf of Aqaba are international or territorial waters. Such a ruling would decide Israel's right to access to the south Israeli port of Eilat.

Egyptian officials have said flatly Israeli shipping will not be allowed through the Suez Canal because Egypt technically is still at war with Israel. The 1888 Suez Canal convention permits the country controlling the waterway to close it to enemies.

Cairo's claim that the Tiran Strait is Egyptian territorial water may be tested soon.

Reliable sources in Jerusalem said three American tankers loaded with crude oil would sail through the Gulf to Eilat in April.

A showdown might come if Egyptian forces have returned to the U.N.-occupied gulf coast by then.

Billion Slash in Foreign Aid Seen by Knowland

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California predicted today Congress will cut about a billion dollars off President Eisenhower's $4,363,000,000 foreign aid request.

Chairman Bridges (NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee backed this up with a forecast of "substantial cuts" in the economic assistance program.

Eisenhower told his news conference last week he doesn't believe any "substantial cuts" can be made in aid funds "and still support the welfare of the United States and the world."

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

Two persons were injured in one of two traffic accidents investigated Saturday and Sunday by sheriff's deputies. One injury was reported in six weekend mishaps in the city while highway patrolmen reported only one minor accident in Marion County.

The county injuries occurred in a one-car accident at 5:03 p.m. Saturday on County Road 83, one mile north of Green Camp. Taken to the Smith Clinic for treatment were Darlene Joyce Lilley, 17, of 857 Woodrow Ave., driver of the car, and Ardith McCrery, 16, of 853 Uncapher Ave., a passenger in the car.

Both Miss Lilley and Miss McCrery suffered head, leg and back injuries. The accident occurred when Miss Lilley lost control of the car, running off the road, deputies reported.

The other accident occurred at 6 p.m. Sunday on Fountain St. just outside the city limits when Robert Mosley, 33, of 403½ Silver St. drove his car away from the curb, across the street and into the side of a car owned by Robert Noggle of 599 N. Main St., deputies reported.

Thomas Burton, 39, of 286 S. Vine St. was injured when his car struck a utility pole at S. Vine and E. Church streets at 8:20 p.m. Saturday. He told police he was making a right turn and went too wide in atempting to avoid some pedestrians and struck the pole. He suffered minor abrasions of the scalp and chin and was taken to Marion General Hospital, treated and released.

A collision at E. Center and Baker streets at 8:12 p.m. Saturday involved cars driven by L. D. Hamilton, 64, of 334 E. Center St. and Florence E. Shepard, 34, of 300 Madison Ave.

A car parked in the 100 block on S. State St. and owned by Leon Obenour, 50, of 396 Commercial St. was struck by another car at 1:45 p.m. Saturday. Driver of the other car was Edwin Potts, 43, of 183 Sharp St. He failed to stop after the accident and later was arrested by police on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Roy A. Bice, 22, of Green Camp escaped injury when his car rolled over at Curve and Nye streets at about 8 a.m. Saturday. He was traveling west on Curve St., and the car rolled over as he attempted to make a turn. He was arrested on a charge of drunken driving.

An unusual collision occurred at 12:30 p.m. Friday in the 500 block on E. Church St. Cars backing out of driveways on opposite sides of the street backed into each other. They were driven by Mrs. H. C. Traugh, 35, of 521 E. Church St. and Mrs. A. W. Lares, 47, of 522 E. Church St.

The only other accident in the city caused less than $100 total damage, police estimated.

Motorist Arrested

A Columbus driver was arrested on a charge of failure to stop within assured clear distance and cited to appear in Marion Municipal Court today after the single Marion County weekend accident investigated by patrolmen of the local post.

It occurred on Route 23, one mile south of Marion at 10:50 a.m. Saturday when a vehicle driven by Archie Brewer, 32, of Columbus, struck the back end of an auto driven by Ardeth Evans, 52, of Prospect, attempting to turn west into a private drive, patrolmen said.

Minor damage reportedly was done to both autos. No injuries were sustained.

LaRue Man Spots Broken Rail, Averts Possible Train Wreck

A LaRue man's quick thinking Friday night possibly saved a major train wreck in LaRue. Cyril Prettyman, brother of LaRue Mayor Mrs. Estelle Armstrong, spotted a broken rail on the New York Central tracks and notified railroad authorities who were able to stop trains from crossing the section of track.

Mr. Prettyman was on his way home from visiting friends about midnight when he noticed the crossing gates at the Front St. crossing were down, but no trains were in sight.

He took a flashlight and went back to the crossing. A retired railroad conductor, he realized that either a bond wire or track was cut when he saw that the block signal lights were burning.

He searched the area of the crossing and found a track broken just west of the river bridge in such a position that if a train had crossed it it probably would have plunged into the Scioto River at that point.

Mr. Prettyman notified the railroad's officials in Ridgeway of the break. They in turn sent workmen to the scene and halted traffic over the tracks until the break was repaired.

Mr. Prettymar said this morning the eastbound trains which use the track travel at a high rate if speed through the village. He said the break in the rail broke the circuit which caused the signal block to go on. He retired last July 18 after 46 years with the Pennsylvania Railroad as a conductor.

He said a person not familiar with the working of railroad signals would probably have thought nothing of the gates being down and the block signal working.

The railroad said today that temporary repairs were made early Saturday morning and that a new rail was laid this morning.

staff on plans to transfer his headquarters from the Suez Canal zone to Gaza.

Up to U.N.

Burns, who witnessed the demonstration, was asked by newsmen whether he thought Communist tactics were used to foment the trouble. He replied: "I think so."

In Egyptian eyes, the administration UNEF has set up in Gaza goes beyond the U.N. General Assembly's resolution setting up the international force.

Burns declined to say whether the Egyptian government is demanding formally that it resume control in Gaza. He said that such questions would have to be answered at U.N. headquarters in New York.

"All I know is that my orders are that UNEF takes over exclusively in the initial phase," he said. "How long the initial phase will last I do not know."

A similar view was attributed to Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, U.N. undersecretary and a member of the U.N. advisory commission on UNEF. Bunche arrived in Egypt Sunday to confer on U.N. problems with Burns.

The Egyptian Middle East News Agency quoted Bunche as saying UNEF's mission is temporary, that it is not an occupation force,, and is without governing power.

Burns and Bunche flew to Gaza today. A U.N spokesman said they would fly tonight to Cairo, where Bunche will spend Tuesday.

Mansfield Firm Wins Suit in Crawford Court

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Common Pleas Judge John C. Carroll has returned a verdict here in favor of Weather Seal of Central Ohio at Mansfield against Mr. and Mrs. John W. Fox of Galion.

The Mansfield firm was awarded a judgment of $378 and costs. It had asked $400 and costs for storm doors, windows and grills allegedly ordered and later rejected by defendants. The plaintiffs asserted the goods were custom made for the Fox home and could not be used elsewhere and that a purchase order had been signed by the Foxes. The Foxes claimed the goods were rejected because of a late delivery date.

Both parties had waived trial by jury and the case was heard by Judge Carroll, Feb. 26-27.

MCYM Studies Future Actions

Representative young people of Marion churches and their adult advisers met at First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon to make plans for future Marion Christian Youth Movement activities. They were from the Youth Fellowship groups of the individual churches which co-operate in interdenominational work through the Marion County Council of Churches.

Rev. J. Albert Clark of Columbus who is in charge of youth work for the Ohio Council of Churches, was present together with Rev. Warren W. Lindstrom, adviser for MCYM from the Marion County Ministerial Association and Robert Faulkner, adviser from the council of churches. Robert Klingel presided.

To continue inter-church fellowship and co-operation, a "singspiration" program for young people of all churches was planned for the afternoon of March 31.

Outlined as the purposes of the youth council were the promoting of community meetings and strengthening faith and Christian unity in common; developing projects together to extend the witness of the Christian Gospel and establishing Christian principles at the center of the community; sharing in the support of world service projects and widening outreach of young people deepening their concern for the welfare of all human beings; promoting projects to help young people develop attitudes toward citizenship in Christian life, and sharing in regular council meetings experiences, ideas and needs and developing Christian projects to exemplify fellowship in the youth Go to Church program.

Consideration was given to the carrying on in the fall of a united evangelistic effort in which unchurched young people will be reached. A similar endeavor which was successful in Mansfield was explained by Rev. Clark. Churches from at least five denominations in Marion were represented.

31 Crews Busy Fixing Scioto County Phones

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Thirty-one repair crews of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. were still at work today repairing cables in an effort to fully restore telephone service to Portsmouth and Scioto County.

Since the recent end of the strike against the company by the Communications Workers of America, workmen have been repairing cables slashed during the long period of labor strife.

Thus far, about 25 per cent of the 17,000 telephones in the city and county have been restored to full service. With the many crews at work repairing the cables, company officials hoped a higher percentage of phones can be in service by the end of the week.

The fire department is still without communications, but many other vital public offices and business concerns have service.

Kilgore produces cap pistols and commercial and military pyrotechnics.

Reuther's Strategy

By Victor Riesel

VICTOR RIESEL

When Walter Reuther led one of Michigan's first sitdown strikes, he deployed his people so well and sealed the plant so skillfully that a major in the National Guard was heard muttering: "We can use that fellow's genius for battle plans."

Mr. Reuther never lost that touch. Today he is once more deploying on the same front and once again his battle plans are carefully drawn. But now his treasury consists of more than a few cans of soup and some petty cash from John L. Lewis.

Mr. Reuther is preparing to spend some 50 million dollars to strike the Big Three auto companies again. But this time he hopes to launch the first three day weekend — from Thursday night to Monday morning — in the history of a mass industry.

Once more Mr. Reuther is preparing to nail a slogan to a banner as he did with the Guaranteed Annual Wage in early 1955. This one is the shorter work-week and the downbeat will begin throbbing early in April.

That will be the week of April 7, to be exact, when the Auto Workers Union convention opens in Atlantic City, N.J. The leadership, now meeting in Detroit, will ask — and get — a four bit increase in dues.

THE CONVENTION of the United Auto Workers will then authorize a "special" emergency convention for next January to work out details of a "crash program" for tangling with the auto companies.

Mr. Reuther will say again and again that the union will strike for the shorter work week — and he will mean every word. The odds are that the strike will come.

At that early 1958 conference, the UAW leaders will ask for — and probably get — either another dues increase, or a special assessment or some emergency payment from each of the union's 1¼ million members.

This may come as much as five dollars a man, or perhaps as little as two dollars each. But even the lower figure isn't a ladies' club bingo prize. At the very least, the union will be raising almost 25 million dollars for C-Day, Contract Day, which arrives Maypole time in 1958.

And Mr. Reuther's cupboard isn't exactly empty now. At the last reading, dated Dec. 31, 1958, there was a strike fund balance of $22,396,876.99.

THIS IS NEATLY invested, incidentally, in government bonds and banks and has given the union just over half a million dollars in interest, which proves what this creaky old capitalism can do.

The union chiefs consider this more than just money. They see the war chest as a psychological weapon. Says UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey: "A strong strike fund tends to have an influencing effect on companies during negotiations. It would be difficult to determine the number of strikes that have been avoided because corporations realize that the UAW had strong strike fund resources and could conduct an effective strike."

There is, however, a general impression that General Motors, Ford and Chrysler won't be impressed by a 50 million - dollar strike fund and will tell Mr. Reuther to strike if he wants that four-day work week.

Mr. Reuther will counter with the offer of a painless extraction of working hours from the Monday to Friday week. As he and his colleagues see it now, the three day weekend won't be completed for perhaps another five to eight years.

FIRST MR. REUTHER and company will say their people are producing two-and-a-half per cent more each year than they did the previous year. This is the equivalent of roughly an hour per week per man. Therefore, the corporation will get the same amount of production even if it slashes its work week by one hour, say the union strategists.

So, co mesFriday afternoon, why not let the men go home one hour earlier. Then next year, two hours earlier. And three hours earlier in 1961. And so on.

Eventually Friday's working hours will disappear — but the same amount of production will be maintained, Mr. Reuther will argue. And I do mean argue.

Mr. Reuther's objective is not only to spread leisure time but to spread work. The experts believe there will be some 250,000 Auto Union members jobless within a year because of automation. A shorter work week will give these men employment in busy seasons.

And just think what all this will do for the fishing tackle business —that is if Mr. Reuther wins this one.

Success Formula

By Hal Boyle

HAL BOYLE

NORWALK, Conn. Mrs. Margaret Rudkin, a self-baked millionaire, has a simple answer to the problems of the world's most frustrated woman—the middle-aged American housewife.

"Start your own business," she says.

Mrs. Rudkin, now one of the nation's best known businesswomen, became a success because 20 years ago she kneaded some dough—and kept kneading more and more of it.

Doing the unexpected has been characteristic of her all her life. As a young girl—blue-eyed, freckle-faced, red-haired — Margaret Fogarty dreamed of becoming a famous newspaperwoman.

INSTEAD, after studying journalism and finance at Columbia University, she wound up in Wall Street selling stocks and bonds. Then a stockbroker, Henry Rudkin, sold her on another proposition—marriage.

In 1937 Mrs. Rudkin was busy caring for her husband and three sons. Her business career seemed over.

One night she baked some whole wheat bread by an old recipe and a guest remarked, "It's so good you ought to market it."

But the project seemed hopeless. Times were still bad.

"A 20-ounce loaf of bread then was selling for a dime," said Mrs. Rudkin. "I had to charge a quarter for a 22-ounce loaf."

But her stone-ground whole wheat bread, named after the Rudkin estate, "Pepperidge Farm," caught on quickly. She moved from the kitchen to the barn, set up machinery, hired neighbor women to help her, and by the end of the year was turning out 4,000 loaves a week.

IN THE LAST two decades Mrs. Rudkin—joined in the enterprise by her financier husband and two of her sons—has baked nearly half a billion loaves, enough to provide a ham sandwich for every person on earth (if they had the ham).

Today the firm markets two kinds of bread, bread stuffing and eight varieties of cookies. It has seven plants, 500 employes, world-wide distribution, and will do a business this year of over $15,000,000.

She feels any middle-aged woman with initiative can make a success in business today.

"It is perhaps a mistake for a mother with very young children to try to combine a career and marriage—unless she is an exceptional person and has a cooperative husband," she said. "But often, I think, it is a mistake for a middle-aged woman not to go into business for herself.

"It takes a bit of doing, but as the old Irish saying goes, 'God broadens the back to bear the burden.' Certainly in the last 20 years He's broadened mine."

Motorists Should Think Twice—for Selves and Others

Cpl. D. M. Dewalt of the Marion post of the state highway patrol warned motorists today to be on their guard against the unpredictable behavior of pedestrians and other drivers.

"It isn't enough to obey the law and mind your own business," the patrol officer said. "You have a moral responsibility to prevent an accident if you can — even if the other fellow is at fault."

He said that in traffic the driver is at the mercy of everyone he meets. His only protection lies in anticipating the other fellow's actions and counteracting his blunders with quick, safe action.

Cpl Dewalt mentioned the following blunders of other drivers as the ones most likely to cause trouble: failure to heed a stop sign, making a left-hand turn from a right-hand lane, failure to signal a turn, stopping suddenly, pulling out from the curb into traffic without warning and weaving dangerously through traffic.

He also warned drivers to watch out for pedestrians crossing in mid-block or against the lights, getting out of a vehicle on the street side or walking along the road in dark clothing at night.

Shelby Gets Lima for Opening Regional Struggle

Whippets Blast Mansfield Hopes in 66-47 Rout Here

Shelby, winner of sectional and district cage crowns here, will battle Lima Friday night in regional action at Toledo.

The Whippets, boosting their season mark to 20 wins against a single setback, whipped Mansfield 66-47 here Saturday night before 3,886 fans in the district title clash at the Coliseum. Lima will carry a 12-8 mark into the regional chase.

—:—

COACH Chuck Williams' Whippets nailed down their first district championship after 13 years of trying by routing the Tygers with a second half burst.

Big 6-5 Kent Phillips managed to keep his mates in contention with a 14-point burst in the opening two quarters. He suffered a wrenched knee after two minutes of action and was forced to leave the game. With Phillips out of action, Shelby spurted into an 8-2 edge and led 14-6 when he returned to the game.

The Whippets were leading 16-10 at the end of the first frame but Phillips pumped in five field goals in the second, his last one knotting the count at 27-27 with only seconds to play in the half. Larry Siegfried dropped in a pair of free throws to give his mates a 29-27 halftime cushion.

Dick Carver was given the assignment of guarding Siegfried by Coach Vern Hoffman and the scrappy little performer turned in a commendable job. He held the high scoring Shelby star to 11 points in the first half but drew his fifth foul early in the third quarter. After his departure, Siegfried began ripping the Tyger defense with a variety of shots. His mates finished the third stanza leading by a 46-35 edge after holding Mansfield to eight points in the quarter.

SIEGFRIED popped in 15 points during the final eight minutes to finish with 33 markers and boost his season total to 768 points. The Tygers did accomplish one feat, however. With Siegfried covered by Carver, the Whippets were forced to shoot. As a result Russ Hepner canned 14 markers and Dave Tullis finished with 13. Phillips led the Tygers with 22 markers.

The winners fired away at a 44 per cent clip, hitting on 26 of 58 field goal tries and picking up 14 of 28 charity throws. Mansfield connected on 20 of 57 tries for a 35 per cent mark and added 7 of 13 from the foul line. Siegfried posted the top average, hitting on 11 of 19 shots. He hit on 11 of 15 free throws, canning 10 straight after missing three of his first four.

Robert S. Brown, superintendent of Marion Schools, presented the trophies to the district champs and runners-up.

Carey Leads Yankees' Hitters, Bats in 4 Runs

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Maybe Casey Stengel was just trying to scare Andy Carey when he said recently he was going to try Bill Skowron at third base.

Carey has played both Yankee exhibition games against the St. Louis Cardinal, and Sunday socked a 3-run homer in the first inning and batted in another run later as New York won 9-6 to even it up with St. Louis.

Tribe Ace Shoots for 300 Circle

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Early Wynn, one of the Cleveland Indians' pitching big three, would like to hit the 300-victory mark in the majors before the man with the scythe gets him.

At 37, the odds would seem against the talented right-hander's becoming the first to reach that coveted goal since Bob Grove finished with an even 300 triumphs in 1941.

Wynn with 221 decisions, spanning 15 seasons since his first verdict as a Washington Senator, in 1941, needs 79 more to do the trick accomplished by only an even dozen mound stars, most of them of ancient vintage.

"It's a long way to go, but I'd like to try," Wynn said today. "I don't feel like I'm in the grave yet."

This was in rebuttal to conjecture around the American League that Wynn and 36-year-old Bob Lemon may succumb to age. The two, with youthful Herb Score, each registered 20 victories for the second-place Tribe last year.

Wynn, who has not won fewer than 17 games a season since 1949, his first with the Tribe when he had 11-7, certainly appears to have found a private fountain of youth. In his past five Tribe seasons, he has registered 100 triumphs against only 55 defeats.

The secret may be his intense conditioning program which rivals that of now retired Indian ace, Bob Feller, who hung up his glove this year with a lifetime record of 266-162. Wynn now stands 221-170.

"For the past five or six years, I have pitched batting practice five or six times a week and done at least an hour's running each day in spring training," Wynn explained.

"I weigh around 220 pounds now and I'm sweating pretty good. My usual weight is only a couple of pounds less. Frankly, I notice that spring training is getting tougher and tougher. It used to be a romp, but now it's torture, getting worse every year. But one thing, so far, once I get in condition, I'm as strong as I ever was.

"I'll bet, though, that even a kid around 20, if he weighs 220, finds it just as tough as I do in spring training."

Pearl St. Quintet Nails Gra-Y Title

Pearl St. School's hardcourt five won the Gra-Y League basketball championship Saturday by taking a 29-24 win from Silver in the YMCA gymnasium.

Coach Jerry Garver's boys, defending champions of the annual tourney, won their 18th straight game in taking the title. They led all the way, grabbing an early 12-3 first period lead, stretching the margin to 23-10 at intermission, and building up a comfortable 28-14 advantage going into the finale.

Silver threatened to knot the count in the fourth quarter, when Danny Jaycox rolled in 10 quick points, but Pearl's substitutes were equal to the occasion and still had a relatively safe five-point edge at game's end.

The losers were hampered by absence of their center, Albert Henson, during the third frame of the battle. Henson had collected four fouls by halftime and sat out the entire third session. He racked up his fifth miscue early in the finale. Before leaving the game, however, Jaycox rolled 15 points through Pearl hoops to pace Silver scoring efforts. Only four players rang up points for Coach Bud Burnside's boys. Henson and Norman Price each got four, Stanley Crabtree accounted for one.

Larry Merchant posted 10 tallies to lead the Pearl attack, while Roger Pfeiffer got six for second high. John Wilson and Dave Howell both got five points. John Hix hit for two and Danny Roseberry accounted for one to complete the Pearl scoring.

THE MAN IS OUT. Boston Red Sox infielder Gene Mauch is out at home plate as he attempts to score from second on Fay Thorneberry's single into right field in first inning of an exhibition game with the Detroit Tigers at Sarasota, Fla. Detroit catcher Bob Wilson holds the ball as Jim Piersall (37) signals his teammate to slide.

City Bowlers Will Continue Tourney Race

Third round action will get under way promptly at 6:45 tonight as activity in the annual City Bowling Tournament fires up for a solid week of competition in team play, doubles and singles games. The first two rounds in the five-week event were rolled Saturday and Sunday respectively.

Based on the first two days of bowling, Herb Petrich turned in individual single game high by virtue of a 265-pin effort. Charles Bloomingdale leads in the Class A all-events with a 1657 score, while Don McCully tops all in the Class B all-events with a 1644 tally.

Tops in Singles

Topping the single game scoring as of now are the following keglers: Robert Winnert, 700; Jack Young, 691; Petrich, 668; Ron Jerew, 662; and Don McCully, 654. Leading the scoring in doubles matches are the following teams: Gene Shenefield, Harry Yager, 1235; William Hoffman, William Bomberger, 1234; Jack Young, Ralph Weber, 1222; Charles Cashell, John Williams, 1208; and Ron Jerew, William Norman, 1209.

Team activity thus far has resulted in the following teams leading the pack: Indians, 2927; Schoenling Beer, 2860; Erie 5, 2353; Saratoga Bar, 2823; and Nevada Furniture, 2769.

Schedules today call for team action starting at 6:45, as well as 9 p.m. Eight teams will bowl during both sessions.

A feature of the 9 p.m. shift will be the bowling of Marion's two all-family teams. The Bibler Vault squad includes the five Roseberry brothers, Joe, Darrell, Max, Dick and Ned, while the Mar-O-Del tournament entry is made up of Pearl Owens and his four sons, Bob, Don, Dick and Kenny.

136 Teams Entered

In all, 136 teams are rolling for the top prize in this year's event. In addition, 275 two-man teams are competing, while no less than 322 individuals have registered to roll for the singles prizes. Some 78 keglers are taking part in the Class A all-events action, with 42 shooting for the Class B all-events high scores. This year's overall participation assures the event its biggest year yet, according to Ed Cheney, secretary of the Marion Bowling Association.

Action will continue every night this week and will run through the weekend of April 14. The Fraternal Order of Police is defending team champion. Charles Stubb and William Hartman hold the doubles crown, while Tom Blair is the singles champion. Blair also holds the Class A all-events title, with Sam Mehaffey putting his crown on the line in Class B all-events activity.

Second Round Completed

Junior High Semifinal Play Slated for Friday

Caledonia will meet Morral and Pleasant will clash with Prospect in semifinal action of the Marion County Junior High School basketball tournament March 15, at 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. respectively.

These pairings were determined Saturday night when second round action in the Morral gymnasium resulted in Caledonia turning back Martel, 77-12; Morral beating Green Camp, 55-28; Pleasant walloping Grand Prairie, 46-18; and Prospect pounding Waldo, 55-28.

Caledonia's cagers blazed away to a 22-1 first period lead, were ahead by a 43-5 margin at intermission and enjoyed a 62-8 edge after three quarters of action. The Donians poured a total of 35 goals and seven free throws through the hoops, compared to five field completions and a pair of charity shots for the losers.

CALEDONIA was paced by Detwiler's 22-point blast, while Tomlin contributed 14. Fourteen players entered the scoring column in the course of the rout. Thacker hit for seven points to lead his Martel mates. Pinyerd got five to wind up the scoring.

Morral had little trouble with Green Camp. After a 10-6 first period lead, the Wildcats eased ahead by a 27-10 margin at the half and were in front by a 42-20 count going into the finale.

Morral hit for 24 goals and seven free throws. Green Camp dumped in 10 field completions and eight tallies at the foul line. Four Morral players racked up double number scores with Freeman getting 12, Moore 13, and James and Malone both 10. Roettger's nine digits was high for Green Camp.

Pleasant's junior Pandas got the best of Grand Prairie in the initial session and never relinquished their edge to record the 46-18 win. They were on top 13-2 at the quarter, 21-5 at the half and 31-15 after three periods. The victors banged in 20 goals and six gift chances. Grand Prairie hit six two-pointers and six tallies from the foul line.

Biggerstaff headed the Pleasant scoring with 12 points, while Anderson's eight were tops for the losers.

PROSPECT turned back a Waldo bid for victory by outscoring the losers from the field 26-9. Waldo, however, put 10 points through the Bulldog nets from the foul line compared to three for Prospect. The victors had no trouble recording the 55-28 win, though, as they took a 22-2 first quarter lead, increased the margin to 31-8 at the half, and were in front by a 41-20 tally going into the finale. Baumgartner and Hower were high scorers for Prospect, racking up 16 and 11 points respectively. Temple rolled in 15 markers for his Waldo mates.

The winners of the March 15 semifinal games will play for the championship at 8:30 p.m. March 16. The consolation contest will be featured at 7:30.

Shantz Flashes Old Form In First Stint for Yanks

By The Associated Press

Three innings isn't much to crow about, but Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees may have helped himself to some pitching help when he gambled on taking little Bobby Shantz from the Kansas City Athletics in a 13-player deal Feb. 19.

The 31-year-old left-hander, who has won only 13 ball games in the last four seasons after his great 24-7 season with the A's in Philadelphia in 1952, looked like the Shantz of old Sunday at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Bobby, who has suffered a variety of ailments, bumps, bruises and broken bones since 1952, pitched the middle three innings of the Yankees exhibition with the St. Louis Cardinals. New York won 9-6.

Gives Two Singles

Pitching scoreless ball, Shantz held the Cardinal regulars to a pair of singles by Ken Boyer and Stan Musial, walked one batter and fanned two. He retired eight of the last nine.

Baltimore shut out the Chicago Cubs at Scottsdale, Ariz., 6-0, with nifty two-hit pitching by Don Ferrarese, Billy O'Dell and Mike Fornieles.

The Pirates made it two straight over the Philadelphia Phillies, winning at Fort Myers, Fla., 7-4. Hank Foiles got four hits, Bill Mazeroski had three, and Dick Stuart slammed a homer to account for 8 of the 13 Pittsburgh hits.

At Sarasota, Fla., big Jim Lemon's second homer in two days got the Senators off to a four-run splurge in the second inning as Washington defeated the Boston Red Sox 4-1.

The Milwaukee Braves defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 7-4 at Miami, the Chicago White Sox downed the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4 at Tampa, Fla., the Athletics hammered the Detroit Tigers 13-4 at Lakeland, Fla., and the New York Giants went 10 innings to beat the Cleveland Indians 9-8 at Phoenix, Ariz.

Maglie Chased

Sal Maglie started for Brooklyn and tried to go four innings the first time out, but was sent to the showers in the fourth. The Barber was charged with all the Braves runs, and gave up homers to Wes Covington, Hank Aaron and Ed Mathews.

Detroit led the Athletics 4-0 after three innings, one on Al Kaline's homer, but Kansas City came through with eight runs in the fourth.

Chicago's Rookie Ignores Handicap

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Bob Will, a 25-year-old Chicagoan fighting for a job with the Cubs, was told four years ago that he shouldn't continue an athletic career.

Will has an "irregular curvature of the spine in the lumbar region."

Told that exercise would help his ailing back, Will continued to play baseball and was placed on the official Cub roster last week.

After a good year with Tulsa in the Texas League last season, Will showed up in the Cub camp where Manager Bob Scheffing said "I've been impressed with him." "He may be the fellow we have been looking for to play center field for us."

'Y' Swimmers Sweep Meets At Mt. Vernon

The Marion YMCA swimming squad closed out its dual meet season at Kenyon College Saturday by whipping the Mount Vernon YMCA in a pair of age group meets with the juniors winning 50-9 and the preps on top 38-21.

The undefeated junior team warmed up for the area championships with its 10th straight victory and must be considered strong contenders for the championship. Tom Prichard, 14-year-old sensation, led the juniors with a pair of brilliant performances as he shattered two of his own freestyle marks. In the century freestyle he covered the fast Kenyon pool in 57.5 seconds, three-tenths under the state YMCA record held by Toledo's great Jerry Lemke. Then he came back in the 50 yard sprint and took four-tenths off his team mark of :26.5. Alan McKee also was a double winner for the locals as they also swept both relays in a display of depth.

The prep team looking for revenge for an earlier one point loss took every first but one to even its season mark at 5-5. Despite the loss of freestyle ace Tom Shambaugh through illness, the locals won easily with wins by Jim Lenavitt in the butterfly; Bob White in the 50 yard freestyle and the individual medley; Brian Bray in backstroke, and Joe Peacock in the 25 yard freestyle sprint. This quartet of winners then combined to win the medley relay.

Next action for the locals will see them seeking more AAU honors with invasions of Toledo and Akron next Saturday and Sunday at the Glass City Invitational and Lake Erie AAU championships.

32 Begin Bid For Crown in NAIA Tourney

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The week-long, 32-team National Intercollegiate (NAIA) Basketball tournament opened in Municipal Auditorium today and there's only the slightest inkling which team will take the championship trophy home Saturday night.

Eight teams were seeded when the pairings were drawn up. Pacific Lutheran of Parkland, Wash., was given the top spot, primarily because its 27-1 season record included two victories of Seattle's AAU champions.

Texas Southern, which was beaten in the finals by McNeese State of Lake Charles, La., last year, was seeded 8th despite its 31-1 record, best in the field, and the fact it has all of its 1956 personnel returning.

McNeese is not in the tournament this year.

The other high seeded teams include, Youngstown, (Ohio), University (19-3), No. 2; West Virginia Tech (31-2), No. 3, Western Illinois (21-2), No. 4; Portland, Ore., University (17-11), No. 5; Hamline (19-3), No. 6; and Southeastern Oklahoma State (22-5), No. 7.

The eventual champion will have played five games in a maximum of six days.

West Virginia Tech of Montgomery will show the NAIA's champion scorer of the year in Ken Hammond, who carried a 35.2 average for 33 games.

Newest Electronic Miracle

Arthur Godfrey was unveiled Monday night on electronic tape, picture and all, which had been taped or filmed or whatever we are going to have to call the process, before he took off for Europe and Africa. This isn't the first time picture tape has been used on the air—Doug Edwards has used it from time to time on his news shows, and it was used on President Eisenhower's second inauguration—but it is the first big commercial show that was taped and I must say that it was impressive.

JOHN CROSBY

Film—by that I mean the celluloid stuff that movies and kinescope have been made of since there was such a thing as a picture that moved—was not made for television and was not very pleasant on it. Tones flattened out and became either black or white, with very little gradation in between.

But the tape has all the depth and detail of live transmission, especially the depth, which is the peculiar virtue of a TV camera. The faces look rounded and the bodies have three dimensions, and the curtains behind them look behind them and not pasted to them, as is the case with kinescope.

ELECTRONIC TAPE in place of film opens vistas that are a little breath-taking. The tape can be shot which means the director could dispense with those endless retakes and use the first one, if it's right.

Tape can be integrated into live drama, so that you don't know the difference—as we so well know now when they do slip in a bit of film.

Tape can be stored indefinitely without loss of quality, and Godfrey and his fellow performers could pile up a half dozen shows and take off for the far corners at will.

Time zones can be obliterated, since shows in the east can be taped in Chicago and Los Angeles and played back at more civilized times. This is done with kinescope, but that is expensive. Tape can be reused.

I only hope the drama directors don't fall too much in love with this new electronic marvel. It could be used on dramatic shows to eliminate all fluffs, all possibilities of error, but I hope it won't be so used.

Nothing yet has been found to replace the emotional content of a sustained live performance. The elimination of error doesn't even begin to outweigh the emotional loss of a drama that is entirely canned in advance.

THE GODFREY SHOW was marred only by a whining noise which was frankly an error. An engineer on the coast forgot to demagnetize the tape. Otherwise it was an auspicious debut. There will be a couple more Godfrey Talent Scout shows on Ampex, but dates for them have not been set.

Others will be on regular film, so you'll have to take your chances on catching a glimpse of this electronic marvel. I've an idea that electronic tape is going to invade all of our futures. Eventually, we'll be taking home movies of the kiddies on it.

I shouldn't be at all surprised if all well-to-do little boys had their own little tape machines to record the Lone Ranger on and play it back for you at breakfast, a possibility that I'm sure will enchant all parents.

"WHEREABOUTS UNKNOWN," by Sumner Locke Elliott on the Kaiser Aluminum Hour the other night, was the story of the abrupt disappearance from her engagement party of a young girl who had, to all appearances, everything in the world to live for. That is, she had a handsome and absorbing fiance, social position, wealth, and all the other appurtenances young girls dream of—and then suddenly she vanished.

The disappearance of a young girl in such circumstances—there have been several real disappearances like that—is a fascinating puzzle and this was a fascinating drama. There were no clues, no enemies, no seeming reasons—except for an obdurate mother who seemed not to be telling all.

Mr. Elliott spreads his puzzle out over 23 years in a search which extends from San Francisco to London before resolving it in a stunning denouncement which, to me at least, was thoroughly surprising. Just what his little surprise was I better keep to myself in case someone decides to do it again.

Kim Hunter played the part of the young girl who disappeared and she was great. There were good performances also by Macdonald Carey and Jan Sterling.

HE'S A 'MIRACLE BABY.' British doctors call four-month-old Stephen Moore a "miracle baby" and for a good reason. He is the son of Mrs. Ellen Moore, 23, who was in a coma for 169 days. Doctors kept her alive in a "deep freeze"—packed in ice—and didn't know whether her yet unborn baby could survive. Little Stephen did survive as did his mother, who is gradually being nursed back to health in a London hospital.

Fielding Questioned

Regalado Arrives at Tribe Camp, Eyes Third Base Job

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Rudy Regalado, one of the last of the Cleveland Indians to sign, showed up at training camp here with the declaration: "There's a job open, and I'll give it my best shot."

The job is at third base, vacated by the retirement of Al Rosen, and it happens that Regalado is a third baseman.

Rudy can hit, but he will have to prove that he can hold down the fielding chore. For the last three years he has been shunted back and forth between Cleveland and the Indianapolis farm club, hitting .250, .269 and .234 for the Indians and .316 and .322 for Indianapolis.

A holdout until a few days ago, Rudy arrived Sunday and stayed to work out while the Tribe trekked to Phoenix for an exhibition with the New York Giants. The Giants won 9-8.

The Indians, behind 8-2 going into the ninth, rallied for six runs to tie the game. But with the bases loaded and two out in the 10th, Giant Gail Harris lined a single to center field off Ray Narleski, scoring Dusty Rhodes with the winning run.

Indian pitching lacked the sparkle of Saturday's performance, when three Tribe hurlers blanked the Giants 2-0. Saturday's six-hit shutout was pitched by Hank Aguirre, Cal McLish and Stan Pitula.

Today the Indians traveled by bus to Scottsdale, Ariz., training home of the Baltimore Orioles.

Marion Squad Dropped From Toledo Tourney

Hunt Milling, YMCA Open League basketball champion, was bounced from further action Saturday at Toledo in its first regional tourney test.

Strayer Insurance of Bellevue dropped the locals by a 74-61 count. Joe McDaniel led the Marion entry with a 26-point production. Strayer led the winners with 39.

Findlay Moose eliminated Old Fort by a 62-33 count and then dropped a semifinal test to Toledo's Saam and Saam, defending national YMCA champion, by a 74-58 margin. The Toledo entry came back to knock out Bellevue 68-53 and nail down a berth in the state tournament March 23 at Columbus.

Higgins Studies Shifting Dick Gernert to Third

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Boston Red Sox Manager Mike Higgins is serious about his experiment with Dick Gernert on third base.

Higgins shifted the outfielder-first baseman to that position in Sunday's 4-1 exhibition game loss to Washington "to get some additional batting strength in the infield."

Sons and daughters of Adios won more than $1,000,000 during 1956. It was a record for a harness racing stallion.

Spartans Take Swim Title in Big Ten Meet

By The Associated Press

Michigan State, Minnesota, Illinois and Wisconsin grabbed off Big Ten championships over the weekend concluding winter sports competition.

Michigan State ended Ohio State's eight year reign in swimming, Minnesota clipped two-time defending champion Michigan for the wrestling title, Illinois maintained its grip in gymnastics with its eighth straight championship and Wisconsin speared the fencing crown.

Depth and victory in the final event brought Michigan State the swimming title. The Spartan 400-yard medley relay team, anchored by Frank Parrish, churned to victory and thwarted Michigan's bid for the crown.

The Spartans finished with 87 points to 79 for Michigan. Ohio State had 71, Indiana 56½, Illinois 27, Wisconsin 23, Northwestern 21½, Iowa 20, Purdue 10 and Minnesota, the host school, was blanked.

MSU won only three of the 16 events but its strength in numbers was too much for both Michigan and Ohio State.

Minnesota won only one divisional wrestling championship at Ohio State but edged out Michigan, 55-54, as three Gophers were beaten for other divisional titles.

Iowa finished third with 39 points followed by Illinois with 37, Northwestern 28, Michigan State and Indiana 18 each, Wisconsin 14, Purdue 10 and Ohio State 8.

Paced by Abie Grossfeld, a member of the 1956 U. S. Olympic team, Illinois turned the gymnastics meet at Ann Arbor, Mich. into a runaway. The Illini piled up 143½ points while runner - up Michigan had 111½.

Michigan State finished third with 68½ points followed by Iowa with 63, Ohio State 20½, Indiana 16½, Minnesota 11½ and Wisconsin 9.

Wisconsin, the favorite, rolled up 37 points to grab the fencing title and Illinois' defending champions tied Ohio State for second place with 27 points. Michigan State finished fourth with 23 followed by Iowa's 17 and Indiana's 6. The matches were held in Champaign, Ill.

Outdoor Group Preparing for Wildlife Week

The nation's number one sportsman and ardent trout fisherman and sometimes quail hunter has joined his fellow Americans in observing National Wildlife Week March 17-23.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower congratulated the National Wildlife Federation, sponsor of the annual event for 20 years, for reminding us of our total responsibility for wise and careful use of our natural resources.

Ohio's No. 1 citizen and sportsman, Gov. C. William O'Neill, has signed a proclamation proclaiming for the citizens and conservationists of the state of Ohio the same date to make more people conscious of their utter dependence on natural resources and to arouse them to support conservation programs.

The 1957 theme is "Homes for Wildlife." Its chairman this year is Walt Disney and on such a theme the conservationists can run the whole gamut of abuses to which Ohioans have thoughtlessly or selfishly subjected their rich land; soil erosion, forest fires, stream pollution, the unwise drainage of valuable wet lands, the denuding of watersheds—all such things destroy wildlife homes. Unless checked they can destroy not only Ohio but large parts of our vast country.

The League of Ohio Sportsmen, the Ohio affiliate of the National Wildlife Federation, supports the governor in his proclamation as an occasion for thoughtful appraisal of our progress of learning to live with the land.

Sportsmen's Clubs, Civic Organizations and Youth Groups will take part in the March 17-23 educational campaign. Gov. O'Neill, with the assistance of the League of Ohio Sportsmen, urged all of Ohio's citizens to acquaint themselves with natural resource problems.

Verne Harris of Cleveland, League president, has been assured by the Ohio chairman for the observance of Wildlife Week, M. V. Loudenback of Russells Point, that many groups over the state have signified their intention to participate.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were lower early this afternoon as steels and oils took losses.

Key issues were down from fractions to around a point. A few small gainers remained.

The steels declined as word came that steel orders for April delivery are below the industry's expectations. Oils with big Middle East holdings were down as the situation in that part of the world continued doubtful.

American Motors stood out on the upside following a statement by the firm's president that financier Louis E. Wolfson and his wife are now probably the biggest shareholders in the company.

American Motors surged 1⅞ and held most of this gain.

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Youngstown were all down fractions.

Gulf Oil dropped around two points in an exceptional loss.

American Telephone dropped around a point as directors served notice that they opposed a shareholder proposal for a 4-for-1 stock split.

Kennecott, International Nickel, Southern Railway, U. S. Gypsum and Union Carbide lost about a point.

U. S. government bonds rose.

The New York City Visitors and Convention Bureau receives thousands of requests for aid. One was from an out-of-town visitor who received a police summons for staying in Central Park past the midnight curfew.

Folsom, U.S. Chamber Tangle Over School Construction Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Folsom says the U S Chamber of Commerce has made "seriously misleading and inaccurate statements" in opposing federal aid for school construction

Folsom, a former director of the business organization, in turn was accused by a Chamber spokesman of "advocating the principle of federal surveillance over" U S state school systems A letter by Folsom and a Chamber statement in reply were made public Sunday

A House Education subcommittee is considering an administration bill which would provide $1,300,000,000 in federal aid for school construction over the next four years The Chamber has called such a program "unwise and unnecessary"

Folsom, in a letter to John S Coleman, president of the Chamber, said he was "surprised and deeply disappointed at certain seriously misleading and inaccurate statements" about the proposal made in Chamber publications

Folsom said "there is no sound or justifiable basis" for a Chamber charge that 'federal aid advocates obviously are attempting to establish the principle of federal financing and control from which they can leap into actual control of the schools"

Folsom said 'The proposed legislation specifically prohibits any federal direction, supervision or control over the personnel curriculum or program of instruction of any school or school system"

A Chamber spokesman Dr John Miles of its education department, said in reply that the administration program advocates 'the principle of federal surveillance over and federal taxation to maintain in part all the 48 states school systems"

Miles said such a program "could — and we believe would —be applicable to all aspects of public education" if adopted
